Durham Area

Events from October 2016 to March 2017

The RSCM Durham Area Committee are delighted to publish their forthcoming season of events. We are catering for all styles and interests. For each event, an individual poster will be produced which will give detailed information and timings. We hope you will promote these events with members of your choir, music group, congregation and friends by displaying this sheet on your notice board, adding events listings into your church magazine/pew sheet and by inviting others. We look forward to seeing you in the near future.
